Design Technology

Can you design your own Greek Parthenon?
Research what a Greek Parthenon is then look at ways in which you could build one. You might want to use cardboard or plastic, toilet roll tubes might be useful for the pillars.
See if you can add colour or paint to make it look realistic.

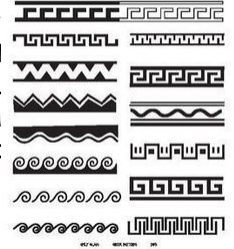

If you have Lego at home, could you build a Parthenon using Lego?

Art

GREEK PATTERNS

Research Greek patterns or make your own versions, then use them as page borders to decorate your written work.

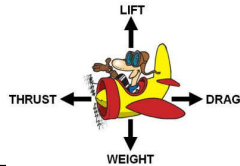

Science

We are studying forces this half term. Can you research the following forces: friction, air resistance, gravity and buoyancy? See if you can make a poster about these forces, or set up a new Google Slides to explain each force.

You could also make some paper aeroplanes and test how far they fly, can you change the shape, size or design to make them travel further?

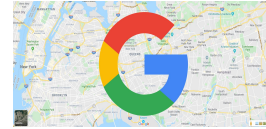

Try making small boats from different materials, test which ones float in water. How could you improve them?

Computing

We will be using Google Slides to create a map of our local area. Use your online devices to locate your house and surrounding area (use the Google Maps app).

See if you can annotate a screenshot of your home using Google Maps, add labels to describe things you notice around where you live, churches, shops, parks etc.

RE

Can you think about Jesus and the type of King he might have been?

Create a collage of all the words you might use to describe Jesus, add images and colour.

History / Geography

In history we are studying Ancient Greece. Can you research the Greek Olympic Games - Greece was the first country to host the Olympic Games in 684BC. Make a poster or set up a new Google Slides to explain each event. See if you could reenact some of the events at home!

For Geography, find Greece on a world map. Can you make a fact file all about modern day Greece?

Think about: the capital city, the names of the Islands, the food people like to eat.
